

INVITATION/CALL FOR ABSTRACTS

The Research Programme "Contemporary Ethnography", Institute for Culture and Society, Aarhus University and The Department of Anthropology, University of Copenhagen

invites all anthropologists to join the

MEGA seminar 2014: LAW

- exploring and analysing aspects of Law based on ethnographic fieldwork

Date: 13-15 January 2014.

Venue: Sandbjerg Gods, Sandbjergvej 102, 6400 Sønderborg

Information

The seminar will consist of 3-4 plenary sessions with key note lectures and 4 panel sessions. PhD-students, teachers and researchers of the institutes are invited to present a paper at one of the panel sessions. Presentations and discussions will be in English.

Abstracts

If you wish to present a paper you are asked to submit an abstract to Astrid Cermak ace@samf.ku.dk no later than 4 October. Presentations are 15 minutes followed by a 10 minute discussion. Ph.D. students will earn 4 ECTS if presenting a paper. The abstract should be maximum 250 words and include a title and the name of the panel you would like to belong to. In the abstract you should outline the main questions that will be addressed in your paper. Please note that you can suggest to link your paper to ANY of the panels (see attached list). The MEGA-group will decide on the final composition of the panels.

Registration

Please fill in an online registration form before 4 November 2013. Please note that if you are not employed at one of the two organising departments you/your department will have to pay DKK 4.000 to cover food and lodging during the seminar. You will also have to arrange and pay your own travel.

It is our hope that as many anthropologists as possible will join for this revival of the MEGA Seminar. The new MEGA seminar is a research seminar for Ph.D.'s and researchers. MEGA Seminars are co-organized by Department of Anthropology, University of Copenhagen and Institute of Culture and Society/Contemporary Ethnography, Aarhus University. The seminar is funded by the two institutes, yet, other researchers can participate at their own expense. MEGA seminars will be held every other year. Contact the MEGA group: Heiko Henkel (UCPH) og Nils Bubandt (AU)